

STOP! Read this page first before you look at the other pages.

Please do not print this document and use up all the colour toner in your printer!

The following pages have images which tell a story. They are in order and there are questions after every one or two images which you need to think about and answer in your workbooks.

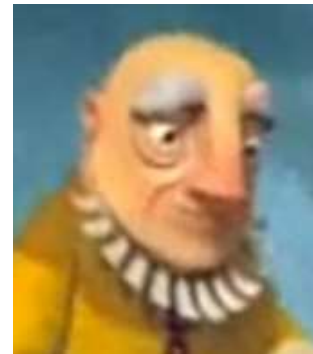

So that you don't spoil the story, please view this document so that you see one image at a time. Then you can scroll down to reveal the pictures one or two at a time – stop when you get to a question and only move on when you have answered it.

I hope you really enjoy this 😊
